In June 2022, Professor Ana Lizeth Mata Delgado from the Escuela Nacional de Conservación, Restauración y Museografía (ENCRyM) in Mexico visited the Department of Conservation of Antiquities and Works of Art at the University of West Attica to participate in teaching and training activities.

During her visit, she delivered lectures on Mexican Muralism and the Urban Art in Mexico City, offering valuable insights into these significant cultural topics. She also contributed to street art documentation projects and attended a presentation by ENCRyM student Daniela Chaves, which explored the vibrant street art scene in Athens.

While at the University of West Attica, Professor Mata Delgado met with the department's president and faculty members, fostering academic dialogue and exchange.

Additionally, Professor Mata Delgado engaged in discussions with Professor Maria Chatzidakis regarding potential collaborations. These discussions focused on developing joint courses on the documentation and conservation of street art and public murals, paving the way for future academic partnerships.
